Meet Maddie!

On January 2nd, 2020, Patrick and Laura Sargent received life-altering news that their beautiful 15-month-old daughter, Maddie, was living with a condition called Angelman syndrome (AS). AS is a rare neurogenetic disorder occurring in 1 in 20,000 births resulting from the loss of function of the UBE3A gene on the 15th chromosome. While this gene is little, it is vital to normal body function. Those living with AS face developmental delays, speech impairment, recurrent seizures, severe sleep disturbances, GI issues and balance and coordination problems.

Over the past five years, AS has become a source of encouragement in the rare disease community. Scientists proved the ability to reverse the effects of AS in animal models. And now, this research is translated into several clinical trials for children living with AS. The Sargent's dream is that Maddie and all of those living with AS will have the opportunity and access to receive an FDA approved treatment against the debilitating side effects of AS. This was the impetus to the inception of Maddie's Mission.

A CURE FOR ANGELMAN

A cure for Angelman syndrome (AS) is now not a dream, but a tangible reality. Thanks to Maddie's Mission donors and supporters, an Angelman Syndrome Clinic opened in December 2022 at Children's Mercy in Kansas City! Maddie's Mission was an integral part of this incredible achievement.

However, Maddie's Mission will not stop there. We must continue supporting scientists and physicians to assure that the most effective pharmaceutical therapeutics are available.

In 2023, Maddie's Mission will focus on the progression of research and therapeutics for AS. This will be achieved through continued support of Maddie's Mission and its partnership with Children's Mercy, Children's Mercy Research Institute and the Foundation for Angelman Syndrome Therapeutics.

Maddie's Mission will continue supporting KC organizations that have helped Maddie achieve the improbable. Maddie's hope is that all children living with different needs have similar access to the support services that she is fortunate to receive.

Maddie's Mission Impact in 2022

Maddie's Mission is proud to have raised over $160,000 in 2022 and has been able to support the following endeavors:

- Support in the establishment and ongoing operating needs for the Children's Mercy Angelman Syndrome Clinic
- Support to progress AS and other rare disease research at Children's Mercy Research Institute
- Support in the progression, research, and clinical trials through partnerships with FAST and ASF
- Greater access to therapy at Playabilities
- Adaptive car donation supporting Geeks4Kids
- BE Smith Family Center/Britain Development Fund-A-Need for children with special needs
